

PROF. VAN LANDINGHAM DIES AT LAKE SARANAC

Instructor of English at Richmond College Had Been Ill for Six Months.

Professor H. A. Van Landingham.

Professor H. A. Van Landingham, for five years one of the professors of English at Richmond College, died on Friday at Lake Saranac, N. Y., according to word received in this city yesterday. Six months ago Professor Van Landingham went to Lake Saranac with the hope that his health would be benefited, but he showed no improvement and slowly his condition became worse.

The body will be taken to his native home, West Point, Miss., for burial. He leaves his mother, Mrs. M. P. Van Landingham, and his father, Mr. J. C. Van Landingham, both of West Point, and his brothers, W. H. Van Landingham and J. B. Van Landingham, both of West Point, and his sister, Mrs. S. Van Landingham, all of West Point, and his sister, Mrs. S. Van Landingham, all of West Point.

Professor Van Landingham was a graduate of Harvard University, where he won the degree of B. A. and M. A. He was a devoted literary taste, and gave much of his time to writing and lecturing. He was well known and popular in Richmond.

BARRY STATUE UNVEILED IN A WASHINGTON PARK

In Presence of High Government Officials and Thousands of Patriotic Irish-Americans.

BRIEF ADDRESS BY PRESIDENT

Tribute to "Father of the American Navy" Erected at Cost of $50,000, Appropriated by Congress.

Washington, May 16.—In the presence of several thousand persons, including members of the Cabinet, Senators, Representatives, army and navy officers of high rank and members of Irish-American organizations from all parts of the country, and with President Wilson the principal speaker and Secretary of the Navy Josephus Daniels presiding, a bronze statue of Commodore John Barry, "Father of the American Navy," was unveiled in Franklin Park here today. Miss Eliza H. Hepburn, of Philadelphia, great-granddaughter of Commodore Barry, performed the unveiling ceremony.

After an invocation by Bishop Alfred Hurd, Secretary Daniels introduced President Wilson, who, drawing inferences from the life of Barry, gave his views on what constitutes "patriotism." "Patriotism," he said, "is a principle, not a mere sentiment. No man can be a true patriot who does not feel shot through and through with a deep ardor for what his country stands for, what its existence means, which its purpose is declared to be in its history and in its policy."

Without interruption, "John Barry fought like every other man in the revolution that America might be free to make her own life without interruption or disturbance from any other quarter. You can sum the whole thing up in that; that America has a right to her own self-determined life."

"There are just as vital things stirring now that concern the existence of the nation, as were stirring in the time of the revolution, and every man who worthily stands in this presence should examine himself and see whether he has the full conception of."

IF BACK HURTS
BEGIN ON SALTS

Flush your Kidneys occasionally if you eat meat regularly.

No man or woman who eats meat regularly can make a mistake by flushing the kidneys occasionally, says a well-known authority. Meat forms uric acid, which clogs the kidney pores so they sluggishly filter or strain only part of the waste and poisons from the blood, then you get sick. Nearly all rheumatism, headaches, liver trouble, nervousness, constipation, dizziness, sleeplessness, bladder disorders come from sluggish kidneys.

The moment you feel a dull ache in the kidneys or your back hurts, or if the urine is cloudy, offensive, full of sediment, irregular of passage or attended by a sensation of stinging, get about four ounces of Jad Salts from any reliable pharmacy and take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys will then act fine. This famous salt is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for generations to flush clogged kidneys and stimulate them to activity, also to neutralize the acids in urine, so it no longer causes irritation, thus ending bladder disorders.

Jad Salts is inexpensive and cannot injure; makes a delightful effervescent which water drink of and rid your meat eaters should take now and then to keep the kidneys clean and the blood pure, thereby avoiding serious kidney complications.—Advertisement.

what it means that America shall live her own life."

The President declared there was no need for the United States to form alliances with other nations.

Secretary Daniels, in his address, declared this had been a proud and solemn week for the navy men.

"On Monday, in the metropolis of the republic," he said, "more than 1,000,000 persons stood with uncovered heads to honor the thirteen sailors and five marines who, at Vera Cruz, sealed their devotion to their country's flag with their blood. These deeds gave the highest demonstration of the truth that the same courage which was incarnate in John Barry is still the pride of our country. In every national crisis, when there has been need for a man, the man and the occasion have met. We have had fresh proof of this during the past few weeks."

WORDS DESERVE TO RANK WITH IMPROVING SAVINGS

Alluding to Commodore Barry's refusal of 20,000 guineas and the command of a British frigate if he would desert the Continental service, Secretary Daniels declared in his words, "fading deserved to rank among important savings of American sea captains on several notable occasions, and, looking toward Admiral Dewey, he quoted the hero of Manila Bay, 'You may fire when you are ready, Gridley.'"

Representative James A. Hamill, of New Jersey; Asa Bird Gardiner, secretary-general of the Society of the Cincinnati; Michael J. Ryan, president of the United Irish League of America; James A. Regan, national president of the Ancient Order of Hibernians, made addresses.

Several members of Irish-American societies participated in the dedication and parade preceding it, which was reviewed by President Wilson.

STATUE COST $50,000

The monument is a gift of Congress through the appropriation in 1906 of $50,000 and the ceremonies to-day were the first step toward its completion. An executive committee representing Irish-American societies throughout the country. They followed a parade of soldiers, sailors, and members of many Irish organizations.

The statue is the work of an Irish-American sculptor, John J. Boyle, of New York, and shows the commodore in the naval uniform of the day, when he was commander of the Black Prince and director of American naval operations. He was wrecked on a British commerce. The right hand rests on the hilt of a sheathed sword, the left hand is on the hip, and the right arm is draped around the shoulder. The head is turned a little to the right and slightly upward, and the pose and whole attitude is one of flashing gallantry. The statue stands ten feet high on a marble pedestal sixteen and one-half feet on the front of which, in high relief, is sculptured a figure of Victory in the pose of a ship. On the base is this inscription:

JOHN BARRY.—Commodore of the United States Navy. Born County Wexford, Ireland, 1745. Died Philadelphia, 1803.

BASED ON ONLY PORTRAIT OF BARRY IN EXISTENCE.

The likeness is based on the only portrait of Commodore Barry in existence, the work of Gilbert Stuart, now in the State House in Philadelphia, painted just before Barry's death at the age of fifty-eight. From this portrait the sculptor sought to produce a younger likeness, representing the naval hero at the age of forty, when he was in the zenith of his career.

Although the chief reason for the gathering of Irish-Americans in the national capital, the ceremonies to-day were but a part of a two days' celebration intended to emphasize the achievements of men of Irish lineage in this country. Yesterday there was a pilgrimage to the tomb of Washington at Mount Vernon, where, in paying respects to the Father of his Country, prominent orators also lauded the deeds of Irish patriots in American history. Last night there was an Irish song concert rendered by the Glen Club of the Friendly Sons of St. Patrick of New York City, and a number of eminent individual singers of Irish descent. Tonight the celebration closed with a banquet which was addressed by Governor O'Neal, of Alabama.

QUICK RESULTS ASTONISH

There is astonishment in Richmond at the QUICK results received from simple buckthorn bark, glycerine, etc., as mixed in Adler's-ika, the remedy which became famous by curing appendicitis. This simple mixture drains such great amounts of foul matter from the body that a SINGLE DOSE relieves constipation, sour stomach and gas on the stomach almost IMMEDIATELY. The speedy action of Adler's-ika is surprising. The T. A. Miller Company, druggists, 519 East Broad Street.—Advertisement.

This Fine Old Gentleman Calls Duffy's "The Elixir of Life"

Hale and hearty at the age of 72, this old Gentleman has kept well and strong by Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey for over quarter of a century. He's a picture of health, as you can see, and his words of praise show that Duffy's actually does delay the effects of old age.

"I am seventy-two years old and in perfect health. When I was forty-seven the doctors thought I would die of consumption. I fooled them all—I started to take Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey, and soon grew strong and vigorous. I am able to do hard work every day, and can climb six flights of stairs without fatigue."

"In my opinion there is nothing in the world so good to put vim, vigor and vitality into any run-down person as Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey. I call it 'The Elixir of Life.'"

—Mr. H. Stoerzbach, 196 East 76th Street, New York City.

Thousands of people who have reached a grand old age, and who still show a wonderful ability, have used Duffy's through the long years of their active careers. These people willingly testify that is responsible for their possessing the vigor and force of these years, which to-day gives them an undisputed reputation for perfect health and longevity. Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey is a medicine for all mankind—nature's true tonic-stimulant. A tablespoonful in the same amount of water before meals corrects defective digestion of food, increases the appetite, strengthens the heart, gives force to the circulation, relieves insomnia, and brings restfulness to the brain and nervous forces. It can be retained by the most delicate stomach. It has to its credit over sixty years of well doing, which is truly a recommendation in itself. Determine to-day to regain your own health and strength.
